Installation Manual Double DIN Kit

This is how the original dashboard looks like.

Take the left and right brackets and mount them on the aftermarket unit each with the 2 supplied screws .

Remove the original panel. There are no screws but only pressure clips; take care during this operation. Unmount and save the air vents, buttons and the original clips. Remove the original head unit.

Place them as shown in the picture. Connect all cables, verify the proper functioning of the system and insert the unit into the housing. Fix it with screws saved before.

In order to place the aftermarket unit, cut the central metal bracket welded to the tube.

Place the clips saved before on the new fascia plate supplied, mount the air vents and buttons.(The image is purely indicative). Make all connections.
